Legal Risk Management For Design Professionals: Strategies For Dealing With Today's Complex Projects

Managing legal risk is more complex – you are under more pressure to deliver a quality design in less time and at lower cost. The risk profile for design professionals has expanded – you are now routinely called upon to assume risks which may not be insurable. This information-packed and practical program is designed to help you assess and mitigate your risk, and to aid you in making more informed decisions that go to the heart of your business and your professional reputation.

Topics Include

- Best practices to negotiate contract terms, conditions and supplemental conditions
- Coverage and common insurance issues – managing risk and working with insurers
- Insurable vs. non-insurable business risk – where is the line?
- Indemnity clauses – drafting changes that you need to watch out for
- Disputes and claims – best practices to protect yourself and get paid
- Real world challenges for design professionals – best practices and strategies for 2018

Who Should Attend?

- Architects
- Engineers
- Construction lawyers

Introduction

Jennifer Roberts-Logan, Gibbs & Associates

9:00 a.m.

Allocating Risks by Contract:
The Essentials

Geza R. Banfai, McMillan LLP

- Why a written contract is important
- Key risks in a design services contract – what the contract must cover
- Standard form architectural and engineering services contracts – how risks are dealt with
- Non-standard contracts – POs, sign backs, letter agreements and other non-vendor contract forms
- Strategies for managing contractual risk allocation – negotiating with sophisticated opposing parties, managing the risk of being out-gunned and deciding when to walk away
- Risks of amending the contract by subsequent conduct

9:45 a.m.

Refreshment Break

10:00 a.m.

Allocating Risks by Contract:
Troublesome Contract Clauses

Annik Forristal, McMillan LLP

This session will consider the key risk management elements of specific contract clauses and how to address them, including:

- Scope of Work
- Flow-downs
- Limitations of Liability, Indemnities and Warranties
- Liquidated damages
- Holdbacks and liens
- Standard of care
- Payment terms and termination clauses
- Claims and dispute resolution – mediation and arbitration clauses
- Ownership of property
- Hidden perils – contractual standard of care can and will be used against you

11:00 a.m.

Disputes and Claims: Best Practices to Protect Yourself

Jennifer Roberts-Logan, Gibbs & Associates

- Avoiding litigation and getting paid!
- Commercial reality – owners/contractors look to consultants’ insurance policies to cover loss
- Infrastructure and design-build project risk – are project-specific or wrap-up policies in place?
- Claim types – negligence/breach of contract in design, failure to catch a design error on review, failure to catch a construction error on review
- Consequences – damages claims for rectification costs and, increasingly, the costs of delay
- Anticipating disputes – scope creep, cascading RFIs
- Managing performance disputes in real time and avoiding fee disputes

12:15 p.m.

Networking Luncheon

1:00 p.m.

Coverage and Common Insurance Issues

Steven Stieber, Founding Partner, Stieber Berlach LLP

- Denial of coverage – which conditions are insurable under a standard E&O policy?
- Working with the insurer – how and when to engage
- Overlapping coverage – managing multiple responding insurance policies and multiple claims
- Understanding where insurance ends – when you need an outside policy to cover gaps
- Non-insurable business risks – how to assess and mitigate the implications
- Duty of care – does it depend on the sophistication of the client?
- What to do when...

2:00 p.m.

Changing Risk Profile: Recognizing and Managing Emerging Areas of Liability

Wilma Schreuders, Vice President, Canadian Regional Leader, Design Professional, XL Catlin

- Design-Build, P3s, AFPs, IPDs: the changed risk profile when your client is the contractor
- Overlapping insurance policies – project policies and Contractor’s CGL policies – who is an additional insured under the responding policies?
- Sources of potential liability, including intellectual property issues – the danger of turning these over to contractors
- Insurable vs. uninsurable risks – where is the line?
- Assessing and managing the risk of vicarious liability of prime consultants

3:15 p.m.

Refreshment Break

3:30 p.m.

Panel Discussion: Real World Challenges of the Design Professional 2018

Jennifer Roberts-Logan, Gibbs & Associates

Janna Levitt, Partner, LGA Architects

Catherine Karakatsanis, Chief Operating Officer, Morrison Hershfield Group Inc.

Lisa Bate, Regional Managing Principal, North America, B&H Architects

Leading professionals share best practices and strategies during this interactive discussion helping you to navigate some real world challenges affecting your practice as a design professional, including:

- Modern business reality – claims against consultants
- How does the pressure on pricing professional services affect the practice – and how to manage that challenge
- Are professional design services now a “commodity”? If so, what does that imply?
- Gender and diversity issues in the design profession and why this matters – recruitment and retention challenges
- Is risk allocation getting as unreasonable as it seems? Real world, practical implications to the practitioner
